Welcome...

Welcome to one of the most anticipated days of the year for the IIDA New England community, Fashion Show Day! This is the day the craft of our hands, our blood sweat and tears (some of which are sewn into the very pieces before us now), comes to fruition. Just like many of you here today, the IIDA NE Fashion Show was my introduction to IIDA NE, and I was instantly hooked. Coming together in a creative endeavor is what brings so many of us pure joy. A lot of hard work went into the outfits we will see tonight. Thank you to everyone who participated and contributed to making these amazing ensembles.

It has been 1092 days since our last in-person Fashion Show in 2019 and I promise this show will be worth the wait. This is our 24th year and this year we have a new venue, format, and guidelines for the entries. This new venue allows for all of us in the audience to see all the details up close as the models walk by us. I personally love to see how we each re-interpret the non-traditional materials into outfits that can be worn - it stretches our creativity in such different ways. I always walk away from this evening thinking of different ways to incorporate materials into design. Maybe we will see this with this year's "Best Dressed Guest" premier award winner?

This year we have 22 entries from design firms & schools including one from our beneficiary, YouthBuild Boston. Thank you to everyone who is joining this evening, interior designers, architects, students, sales reps, industry partners, contractors, and brokers. We know now more than ever before that being together, being creative together and celebrating together is our "center".

Thank you all.

Lisa Statkiewicz, IIDA
President

YouthBuild Boston

YouthBuild Boston empowers and assists young people of color with essential social, vocational, academic, and life skills necessary to navigate a positive pathway to self-sufficiency, neighborhood responsibility and careers in the building industry.

While YBB promotes the core values of youth development and community service, it stands out as an innovative non-profit offering a hands-on approach to construction and design training. Our programs provide opportunities in vocational education, counseling, and other life skills that readily strengthen and prepare students for the workforce upon graduation.

Building Trades Exploration is a 6-9 month academic and construction trades program is for young people to gain exposure to construction and landscaping safety, tools, materials, techniques and methods while taking HiSET prep classes for their high school equivalency (HSE).

Pre-Apprenticeship is a 15 week program is for young people aged 18-25 with high school diploma or equivalent, and are interested in starting a career in the construction industry. Students gain field experience on real construction sites to ensure that they are ready for employment in the field upon graduation.

The Designery is YouthBuild Boston's hands-on design education program for high school students. Participants develop design and problem-solving skills through a series of team-based community projects by exploring architecture and design.

Facilities Maintenance is the only registered Facilities Maintenance Technician Apprenticeship in the state of Massachusetts. Our 18 month program consists of classroom instruction and on-the-job training while they are employed full time with an employer sponsor. While in the program participants earn 8 college credits that can be applied towards a Bachelor's degree in Facilities Management, if they choose to continue their education beyond the program.

Entry Title: Community Couture

This is community couture. We imbue traditional South Asian, South East Asian and African fashion in our designs. The garments embed images of our cohorts, exemplifying the power of creative agency given to Boston's diverse youth.

Judges

Alda Yunalvita

A native of Indonesia, Alda is a fashion enthusiast, travel connoisseur, avid home chef, model and actress. She has devoted her life to furniture, launching her first sourcing business at the age of 18. Today, she's focused on creative design and innovative fabric applications. Alda actively shares her life's journey and lifestyle with her many followers on Instagram. She lives on the Cape enjoying the sunset and sea view with her beloved husband and cat.

Jana Rago

Jana Rago, runway hair stylist, and owner of Jana Rago Studios located at 207 Newbury Street, is most well known for her work with celebrities, as well as her loyal list of Boston notables. Rago's eye for detail and professionalism has earned her styling opportunities for select runway shows at New York Fashion Week, Paris Fashion Week and the former Victoria's Secret Fashion Show, where she has styled top models including Gigi Hadid, Kendall Jenner, Emily Ratajkowski, Hailey Bieber and others over her 20 year career.

Chardline Chanel

Chardline Chanel is a style, beauty, fitness, and travel digital content creator. Her blog curates fashion and beauty trends, engages her audience in her fitness and health journey, gives interactive updates on her travels around the globe and promotes body positive spaces. Chardline actively works to bring awareness to the underrepresentation of plus-sized women in mainstream media and continues to advocate on their behalf.

Reginald Merome

Reginald Merome, a Boston native, stylist, artist, writer, activist, graphic, and fashion designer, has been working in the fashion industry for over 10 years. Starting his design career under the mentorship of Project Runway famed Prajje Jean Baptiste, he learned the technical, business, and soft skills needed to launch an independent fashion design brand. In 2013, he founded Chevalier Homme. Chevalier Homme is a cosmopolitan, minimalist fashion brand founded in Boston, Massachusetts.
